ATTLEBORO HIGH SCHOOL

The Tattletale
1963

Attleboro High School
Attleboro, Massachusetts

Dedication

Our class has been extremely fortunate during the past three years to have as one of our teachers a very fine and dedicated man. Few individuals become as great an asset to the school as this man has. Through his tireless efforts he has served this community well by instituting many new mathematics courses throughout the school system as well as by serving local industry. He has persistently helped all students seeking aid. His qualities of kindness, sincerity and intelligence are models for everyone.

To show our appreciation and gratitude for your friendship, guidance and inspiration, we affectionately dedicate this yearbook to you. Mr. Louis J. LaCivita. We shall always be proud to remember our years with you.

In Recognition

We, the Class of 1963, wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to the citizens of Attleboro for providing the new senior high school. We are reminded every day of the vastly improved facilities available to us in this new building. We are also reminded of the financial burden willingly accepted by the people of Attleboro because of their faith in us and in the students of future generations. We are grateful to these citizens for recognizing that a good education is the most important single factor in a person's life. We promise to do our best to uphold the high traditions established for us by those who graduated from the building on County Street. We hope that we shall be worthy of the faith placed in us.

Proud as we are to be the first class to graduate from this beautiful new school, we are not unmindful of the debt we owe to those who have made it possible. We therefore wish to express our sincere gratitude to those who have done so much for us—the citizens of Attleboro, Massachusetts.

Theme

We have chosen as our theme the new senior high school. We did not intend to make this yearbook a mere catalog of the building by including a great number of photographs of it, and we do not feel we have done so. Rather, we chose to present a pictorial record as a remembrance. We feel that our class will always regard as a special time our senior year in the new building, and this yearbook will serve to remind each of us that our class holds the proud position of being the first to graduate from the new Attleboro High School.

Certainly none of us will want to forget our two years in the old County Street building. Those walls contain many memories for each of us which will never be buried, no matter where we go or what we do.

As our class departs from A.H.S., each member to mould his own future, we hope that this yearbook will keep alive the many memories that have made the past three years the best in our lives. May we wish each of you the best of luck in the future.

Superintendent of Schools

It is a pleasure to extend greetings to the members of the first class graduating from the new Attleboro High School, and to wish them happiness and success.

Samuel W. Thomas

Principal of Attleboro High School

To the students of the Class of 1963:

May I extend to every member of the Class of 1963 my personal congratulations for your accomplishments at Attleboro High School.

You leave the school accompanied by the hope that your future hard work and determination will bring you a high degree of success.

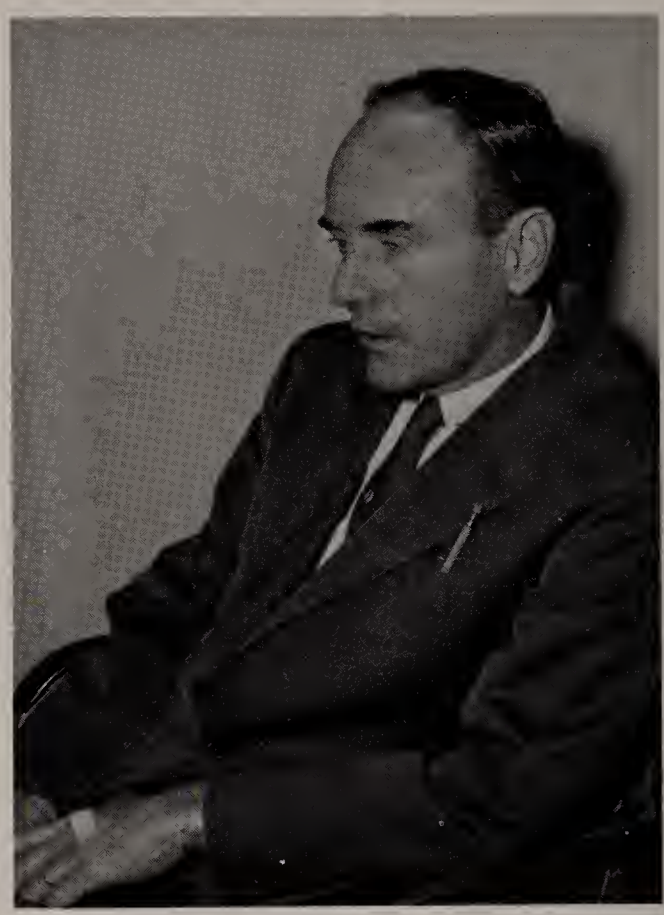
Guidance Department

The main function of the guidance department is to help students select the right course of study for their future occupations. We at Attleboro High are fortunate to have these four dedicated workers.

Mr. James Zmudsky, the head of the guidance department works mainly with college-bound seniors on selecting suitable future colleges.

MR. JAMES ZMUDSKY



Mr. William Madden works chiefly with underclassmen. He also aids students in finding part-time and fulltime jobs during school and after graduation.

MR. WILLIAM MADDEN

Mrs. Elizabeth Kelley also works with undergraduates helping them to select proper courses suited to their abilities and future plans.

MRS. ELIZABETH KELLEY

Mrs. Catherine Feeney, the guidance department secretary, is a valuable asset to the department and to any student needing help in making out college application blanks.

The Student Council has undergone a radical change this year. Instead of having each homeroom represented by separate elections, each class as a whole elects a smaller number of classmates as representatives and alternates: seniors —seven and three respectively, juniors—five and two respectively, and sophomores—three and one respectively. The Trade School elects one representative from each class plus one alternate. Under this new system, much more business can be attended to with a minimum amount of the confusion which had resulted from a larger group.

It is the purpose of the Student Council to express students' views on problems which affect the school. Through the Council the students have a part in the administration of the school. The Council also calls attention to various problems faced by the students.

The National Honor Society is comprised of fourteen members of our class who were inducted as juniors and approximately twenty more members inducted as seniors. The four qualifications for membership are: Scholarship (87 average for juniors, 85 for seniors), leadership, character, and service. Final selection of members is made by a committee of faculty and students.

This year, our Honor Society has endeavored to be of more service to the school than the past societies have been. With the aid of their advisors, Mr. Cooper and Mr. Pensavalle, the members of the Honor Society of the Class of '63 have successfully restored the high reputation and standing of the organization.

INDUCTION, MAY 1962

THE BOMBARDIER

BOMBARDIER

This has been the first year of publication for the Bombardier, Attleboro High's school newspaper. Published by the students themselves, the paper comes out every two weeks, keeping the student body informed on current activities. On the right are the editors and department heads. Countless other students are on the staff, however, and we regret that they, too, could not be photographed.

Art Club

The Art Club, headed by Mr. Brigham, is a group of students who are interested enough in Arts and Crafts to devote extra time after school hours in order to work on creative projects. Not only do they use paint brush and canvas, but also they have the opportunity to work with ceramics, forming different types of pottery, or they can try their hand at other crafts, such as sculpturing or basket-weaving. This year, the results of their labor have not been hidden from the eye of the public, for in our new school there is a display window devoted entirely to the showing of various accomplishments of members of the club.

WARA Radio Staff

The WARA staff is made up of a panel of students. The duty of the staff is to entertain as well as to inform the listening audience with happenings at A.H.S. such as club activities, class news, sports, and commentaries.

Advisors: Mr. Haggerty and Mr. Kelly.

Math Club

The primary purpose of the math club is to provide an opportunity for students who have a flair and a liking for mathematics, to get together and share this interest. At the meetings, there is usually an informal discussion among the members about mathematical topics, then a period during which they exercise their mathematical skill by working out puzzles, contests, and various challenging brain-teasers. It is hoped that the club will be able to take part in a national mathematical contest, sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America within the school year.

Biology Club

The main purpose of the Biology Club is to stimulate interest for biology, not only in the students who are actually taking the course, but also for anyone else who may want to take part in the club. During the meetings which are held twice a month on Monday, the members learn various techniques in field biology and genetics, and they are encouraged to bring up any other topics in which they are interested. When the weather is suitable, the club takes field trips in order to study things as they are actually found in nature. These trips will provide much valuable experience for the members which might not be readily obtainable in the laboratory.

Girls' Athletic Association

The G.A.A. has recently been introduced to AHS. It gives the girls a chance to participate in many sports, such as basketball, bowling, volleyball, swimming, etc. The G.A.A. functions on a point system which eventually leads to an Attleboro Athletic Letter, and later the G.A.A. pin. Representatives were elected from each homeroom to inform the girls in their homeroom of the different activities offered during the year.

Audio-Visual Club

This is the first year that A.H.S. has had an audio-visual club, and there are about ten boys participating. The purpose of the club is to run all projectors, tape recorders, slide and opaque projectors and record players. Another duty of the members of this club is to run the lighting and sound of all shows, concerts, assemblies, and rallies held in the auditorium. They also set up the loud speaker for dances and provide the records and record player, if needed.

Monitors

THE MONITORS

The monitors, a group of boys who are permitted to leave classes before the final bell, have the job of holding doors for the convenience of the crowds in the corridors, and also to help anyone who is lost or confused. Without the monitors at their posts, the hallways would become congested, and would be sources of delay for the students trying to pass between their classes.

MODERN DANCE

The Modern Dance Club is open to all girls interested in dancing, and who wish to express themselves in this manner. whether they have had background in dancing or not. The girls create their own dances as well as participating in them, and try to tell a story or portray their feelings through dancing. Modern dance is strictly interpretive and is subject only to the limits of the dancer's imagination. They have opportunities throughout the year to visit professional dancers who give them classes and at the end of the year the club puts on a performance to show what they have accomplished during the year.

Girls' State

Girls' State is held each year at the Bridgewater State Teachers' College, and is sponsored by the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary. In this imaginary state, the girls, representing nearly every high school in Massachusetts, elect and hold all the offices of an actual state government. The Girls' State program gives to the representatives, chosen on the basis of scholarship, extra-curricular activities and a personal interview, the invaluable experience of seeing the workings of a state government by actual practice. This is an honor well deserved by both Karen and Lauren.

Boys' State

Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion and held annually at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, gives to representatives of nearly every high school the opportunity to become cognizant of the importance and complexity of running a state government. Representatives are chosen first on the basis of scholarship, then extra-curricular activities and outside interests are considered. Our representatives, along with all of the others, were instrumental in setting up this model state, complete with governor, lieutenant-governor, and all of the numerous other officers and department heads, all of whom were chosen by elections. This conference proves an invaluable experience for learning about government first hand. Also, it gives the boys a chance to learn to work together. Congratulations, Ralph and Dick!

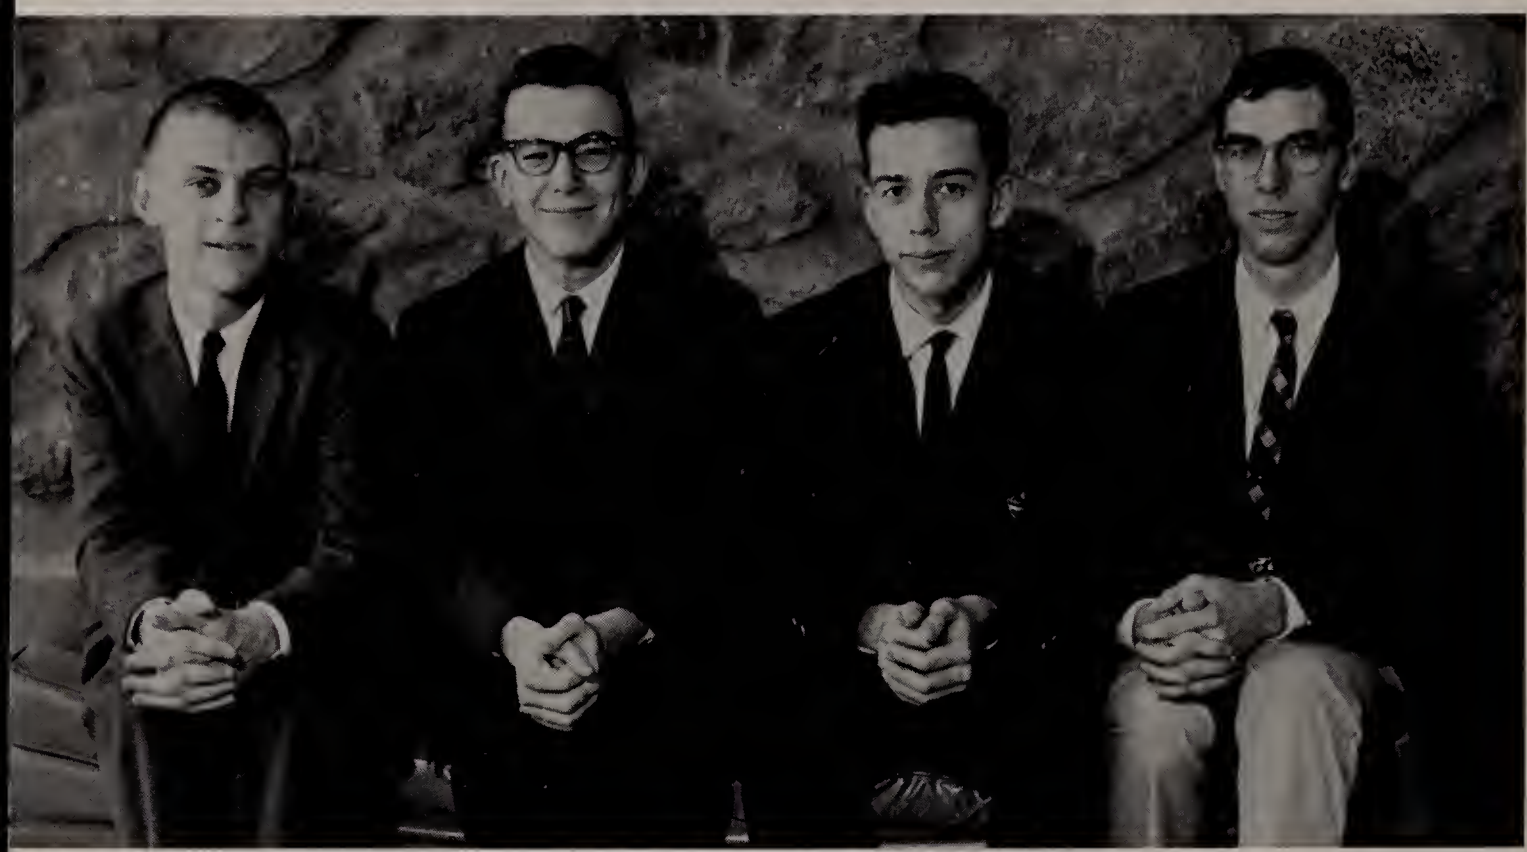
D.A.R. Good Citizen

The Class of 1963 is proud to have Monica Pattangall as its D.A.R. Good Citizen. Each year the award is presented to the senior girl who displays the most outstanding character. She must also possess the qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism to an outstanding degree. She is chosen by the faculty and the members of her class. Felicitations, Monica!

Good Government Day Representative

Each high school in Massachusetts elects a senior student who best displays character and qualities of leadership to represent them on Student Government Day at the State House in Boston. As our representative, Russell Byrnes took his place in the General Court on April 5, 1963 and along with the other student delegates from schools in the Commonwealth helped to carry on the proceedings as is usually done in the state senate and legislature. Thank you, Russ, for a job well done.

Merit Scholarship Letter of Commendation Winners



Left to Right: Ralph Schlenker, Alain Morin, Paul Courcy, Donald Peck.

Each year, high school juniors all over the country take the National Merit Foundation Scholarship examinations. Although scholarship awards are limited, a few students rank high enough to receive special recognition. This year Attleboro High is more than fortunate in having four students who received letters of commendation from the National Merit Foundation. These letters are sent to the colleges of their choice, and are considered favorably for admission.

Thayer Academy Summer Science Program

Thayer Academy, in South Braintree, Massachusetts, offers a summer program of advanced studies in the fields of science and mathematics to high school juniors who qualify by completing three years of mathematics, and one year of a laboratory science at the end of the school year. Sponsored by Tufts University, the program is tuition-free, and includes books, study materials, school meals, and insurance coverage.

For those individuals interested in furthering their studies in mathematics, the Academy offers a seven week course of study and research in advanced mathematics.

In the field of science, ten weeks of study and university, or industrial research laboratory experience are offered. Two weeks are devoted to classroom work, and the remaining eight weeks are given to laboratory research. Chemistry, biology, and physics are among the science courses given during the summer.

In the summer of 1962, Attleboro High School was represented at Thayer Academy by Richard LaCivita, son of Attleboro High School Math Department Head, Mr. Louis LaCivita. In this age of scientific wonders, it is a credit to our school to have a student so interested in increasing his knowledge of science through a summer study course. All of us are proud of Dick, and we hope that the experience he has gained at Thayer will help him in whatever field he may choose for his life's work.

Babes in Arms

Since "Babes in Arms" was presented on April 19 and 20, 1963, after the yearbook deadline, the Tattletale presents to you a back-stage view of the preparations which are so vital to a good production.

"Babes in Arms" a story by George Oppenheimer based on the original play by Richard Rogers and Lorenz Hart, is a two-act musical. The show, which was the first musical ever to be presented on the A.H.S. stage, was produced and directed by Mr. Paul S. Kelly. He was assisted by Mr. Joseph Bono, who was in charge of the vocal arrangements. Mr. Richard Silva was director of music, Mr. Francis Occhipinti was accompanist, and Miss Jeanne Winik, modern dance advisor, supervised choreography. Mr. Donald Brigham, art instructor, and Mr. Ralph Bianci, industrial arts supervisor, were set designers.

The story was based on the trials and tribulations of a press agent who narrated the story and introduced us to his young companions and their problems. Seymour Flemming, the owner of the Surf and Sands Playhouse, tyrannically but comically menaced the young people who were performing in summer stock. Flemming's company, which included Gus Field, a glorified Marlon Brando; Valentine White and Susie Ward, whose course of true love had many pitfalls; and Terry Thompson, who knows "all about men," worked diligently to produce their summer play.

Some of the songs included were "Babes in Arms," "My Funny Valentine," "Lady is a Tramp," "Where or When," and "Johnny One Note."

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club meets daily at Attleboro High, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Bono, to prepare musical selections for the two annual concerts in which they perform—the Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert. The girls never fail to please their audiences with their delightful choral work.

Boys' Glee Club

The Attleboro High School Boys' Chorus is open to all high school boys who show a sincere interest in singing music of a high quality. During the year, they practice with the ultimate aim of performing in the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Their collegiate appearance and fine sound have added greatly to these concerts. They are a fine asset to the high school music department.

The Attleboro High School Band is an organization of people interested in instrumental music. During the football season, the band spurs the team and the school spirit on by participation in halftime activities. The band practices diligently for the Christmas, Spring, and Band Concerts. They also play in Attleboro civic parades, thereby being a valuable asset not only to the school, but also to the community.

Class History

SOPHOMORE

On that memorable Wednesday right after Labor Day in 1960, as sophomores, we entered the doors of the old AHS on County Street and searched for those third-floor homerooms that our "well-meaning" upperclassmen had directed us toward. As it was our first year at AHS, so was it Mr. Joyce's, who had come to us from Westford Academy in Lowell, Massachusetts.

After watching the seniors and juniors stage lively campaigns for their class officers, we took it upon ourselves to show them what a really exciting election campaign should look like. After a week of active campaigning, topped by an assembly at which all the candidates gave the most rousing speeches, we elected Ted McKay, president; Donna Pistolese, vice-president; Sue Johnson, secretary; and Steve O'Keefe, treasurer.

Following a highly successful football season during which Jim "Butch" Gravel captained our champion Bombardiers, we were to celebrate our first Turkey Day game and Victory Dance "Half-time" as sophomore Dick Ryder was chairman of the affair. At the rally before the game, it was announced that we had chosen Sue Lyons to reign as sophomore queen at the dance. We more than enjoyed the dance, as it truly was a victory. We defeated North 12-0 at Hayward Field.

As we remember, we were exceptionally proud of those sophomore athletes of our class: Dave Swenson, Dick Rooks, Al and Elliot Whipple who championed the swim team; those standouts on the Jayvee squad who kept the Bombardier JV's undefeated streak unblemished: Nick Barney, Mike Bussiere. Dick Ryder, Laban O'Brien, Bob St. Pierre, Steve Hennessey, and Ron Grochmal. Ted McKay was a first-string member of the football team.

Our sophomore basketball season saw the Blue and White, true to the Attleboro fashion, run a three-way tie for the Bristol County League championship with Fairhaven and Durfee. Remember that Durfee game at the Armory when Charlie Grochmal sank two foul shots to win the game in sudden death? That year the Bombardiers, with Grochmal and Gravel as captains, went as far as the semi-finals at Tech Tourney, when they were defeated only by New Bedford High, who later went on to win the Tourney.

Spring of our sophomore year brought happy days, with the thought of soon being upperclassmen running through our minds. We were very pleased to see the sophomores outnumbering all the upperclassmen at the first Annual Scholastic Banquet, which Mr. Joyce instituted at Attleboro High that year in honor of all students who had made the high honor roll.

In April of 1961, we sponsored our sophomore dance, doomed by tradition to be a failure because it was to be held on a Friday night. But we fooled tradition. With the fine artistry of Raymonde Isabelle, the active imagination of Bob St. Pierre, and the willingness of all the many, many hard workers, "Oriental Spring" was the most successful class dance of the year. The gym was transformed into a bewitching oriental garden with a bridge and a profitable wishing well in the center of the floor.

In May of 1961, the time rolled around to choose cheerleaders and majorettes for our junior year. Sue Johnson, Sue Lyons, and Judy Mueller were elected by the student body to represent our class as cheerleaders for the rest of our high school years. Majorettes chosen to represent our class on the squad were Lauren Phillips, Donna Pistolese, Pat Mendes, and Jane-Ellen Mahoney.

We ordered our class rings near the end of May. and then we realized that the time was almost here . . . we were almost upperclassmen ourselves. But as we witnessed our first Honor Society induction, and came to the senior class day program, it suddenly became clear that in order to become juniors, we had to say good-bye to those wonderful seniors whom we had come to know so well during the year; and although we had our moments of discontentedness (like when they taunted us as we came in last at the rallies) we knew we would miss them. Nevertheless, with happy anticipation, we looked forward to our next year—as upperclassmen.

JUNIOR

September of 1961 came around all too soon after a fun-filled summer and again we entered AHS but this time as juniors—upperclassmen at last!

Finally after waiting until the end of September we received our class rings which gave a feeling of unity to the class of '63.

After a week of strenuous campaigning we elected Ted McKay, president; Nick Barney, vice-president; Pat Beaupre, secretary; and Judy Mueller, treasurer. The voting was so close that a second balloting was needed to elect both vice-president and secretary.

The football team had an excellent record this year tying for first place in the Bristol County League. Although the co-champion, North, defeated us in the Turkey Day Game, the score was a close 14-12. Lauren Phillips reigned as Victory Dance Queen.

The Tri-Y election was held and we chose the ten girls who we thought had best displayed the characteristics of leadership, dependability, and service. They are Pat Beaupre, Raymonde Isabelle, Susan Johnson, Sue Lyons, Judy Mueller, Monica Pattangall, Lauren Phillips, Donna Pistolese, Karen Truedson, and Lois Williams.

In January under the leadership of Ted McKay our junior dance "West Side Story" was held. This year our highly successful basketball team under the co-captainship of Don Lange and Bob Higginbotham, entered the Tech Tourney. After an exciting victory over Durfee, one which made us all very proud, we were defeated in the semi-finals by Rindge Tech, the tourney winner.

Representing the class of 1963 at Girls' State were Karen Truedson and Lauren Phillips, alternate. The representatives at Boys' State were Ralph Schlenker and Dick Ryder as delegates, and Don Peck, Paul Courcy and Richard LaCivita, alternates.

The Variety Show "San Francisco" under the direction of Mr. Scaturro was a complete success. The junior class was well represented in the show.

At the Honor Society induction we saw Mike Bussiere, Karen Hawkins, Arpad Lind, Louise Monnier, Joyce Newman, Monica Pattangall, Don Peck, Lauren Phillips, Donna Pistolese, Richard Ryder, Ralph Schlenker, Karen Truedson, Carole Vincent and Cathy Young honored for their achievement. We were all very proud of our classmates who had been selected.

The second Annual Scholastic Banquet was held and the junior class was well represented by its high honor students.

After the vigorous cheerleading tryouts at which the entire student body judged the candidates on their ability, Sue Lyons was chosen head-cheerleader and Rosemary Amancio was chosen as a substitute. To lead the majorettes for the following year Lauren Phillips was chosen head majorette.

Ralph Schlenker and Phillip Sturke were chosen co-editors of our yearbook by a committee of teachers and last years' co-editors.

Our second year at AHS had drawn to a close and now we could look forward to our next year as seniors.

SENIOR

With not only the prospect of our senior supremacy facing us, but a brand new school besides, we prepared ourselves for the task of being the first and best class to graduate from the sprawling institute of learning on Rathburn Willard Drive—our new AHS.

Although speeches were not made by the candidates for class offices, their campaigns were carried on by means of posters placed around the school, and by buttons and name tags worn by candidate-endorsers. The results of the elections were as follows: Tom McKenna, President; Nick Barney, Vice-President; Steve Hennessey, Treasurer; and Sue Johnson, Secretary.

Under the leadership of Jane Corcoran, the senior dance committee whipped up a creation called "Autumn Daze," which enjoyed success both as the senior dance, and a Halloween celebration. There were real, live pumpkins strewn artistically around a large "A" in the center of the cafeteria, which were available for purchase after the dance, all in true Halloween spirit.

Ten new girls were elected by our class to be members of the Tri-Y Club: Carol Carpenter, Lois Carter, Alice Gorman, Virginia Halko, Karen Hawkins, Joyce Mendrzychowski, Louise Monnier, Joyce Newman, Janice Robertson, and Maureen Sullivan.

The D.A.R. Good Citizen Award was given to Monica Pattangall on January 5, and in December, Russ Byrnes was elected to the post of Good Government Day Representative. The school is proud of these two members of our student body, and extends congratulations to them for their outstanding achievements.

Coach Cassidy had his share of troubles with football this year, a rebuilding season caused by the loss of most of the first string by graduation, but as usual, he and the team, under the leadership of co-captains Tom McKenna and Nick Barney, came through with many high quality performances. Most pleasing of all was the amazing and exciting contest with North Attleboro on Thanksgiving Day, in which, against all odds, the Bombardiers pulled off a 6-6 tie. This was almost as good as a real victory for us, because we completely ruined the powerful North team's hopes for holding the Bristol County League Championship alone, and forced them to give up part of the glory to Bishop Stang. Throughout the season, there was a Great display of fine sophomore talent, most notably that of Al Zito and John Shockro. These boys, along with many other gifted comrades, are going to lead AHS in the future football seasons. Who could ask for better leaders?

Our Victory Dance was held on the Saturday night following the big game, and spirits were soaring because of our recent destruction of North's desires for championship. By popular vote, Donna Pistolese was elected Queen of the Victory Dance, thereby showing not only her wonderful charm, but the superiority of a senior class product over the junior and sophomore candidates.

Functioning under its new policy of having seven representatives from each class, instead of one from each homeroom, the student council has done its usual excellent job of guiding the student body throughout the year. Elected as officers by the vote of the council members themselves were: Dick Ryder, President; Donna Pistolese, Vice-President; Tom McKenna, Treasurer; and Susan Johnson, Secretary.

At this writing, the basketball season is drawing to an end, with only the last game of league competition remaining to be played. As with football, Coach Cassidy had another rebuilding job to perform on our basketball team, and, as with football, he turned out his usual fine product. Among other accomplishments, the team succeeded in thwarting North Attleboro's attempts to win a game from us, something North has not done since 1947. Naturally, this was all much to the delight of the AHS fans. Among the outstanding varsity players are: Laban O'Brien, Nick Barney, Steve Hennessey, John Horrocks, Bob St. Pierre, Tom McKenna, and two amazing sophomores, John Simpson, and "Little Sharka."

Although a mid-February deadline forces us to omit a record of some spring activities, we are delighted with the prospect of having a senior supplement to our yearbook covering our graduation-time activities. This will be compiled by the yearbook staff in June and sent to us during the summer.

And so, it is time for us to leave behind the fine new building which was the home of our Bombardiers for one year, and hope that the spirit and traditions of the first graduating class will be carried on through the years by our successors in the finest AHS manner.

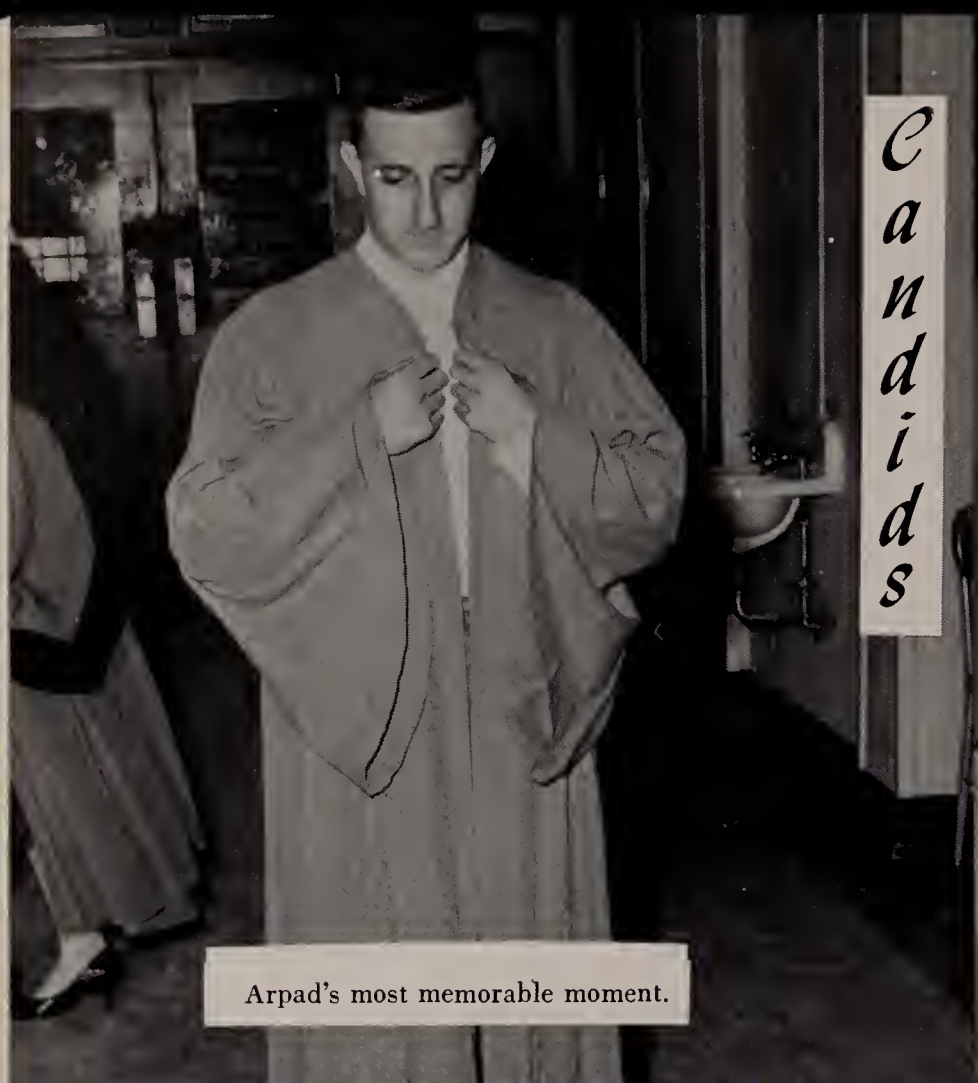
Candids

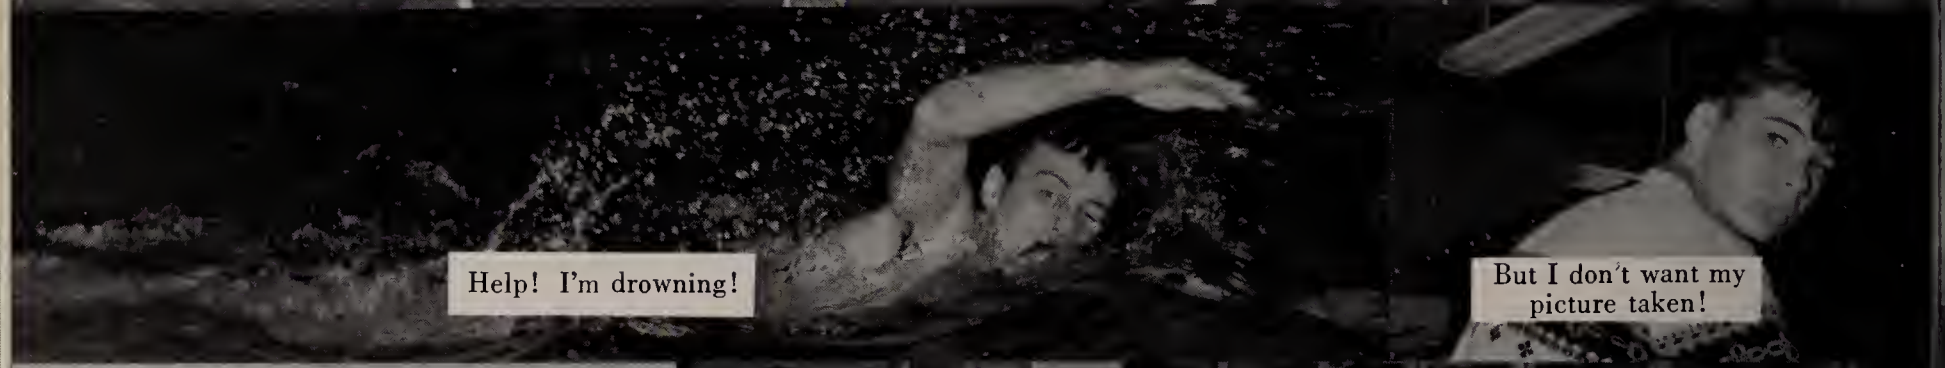


Arpad's most memorable moment.

Get back, get back!!

Why ya hidin', Don?

Spider, the Smiling Sleepwalker



Help! I'm drowning!

But I don't want my picture taken!

The rumors are flying!

Hi, there, Sandy

"So anyway, this guy says to me . . ."

Candids

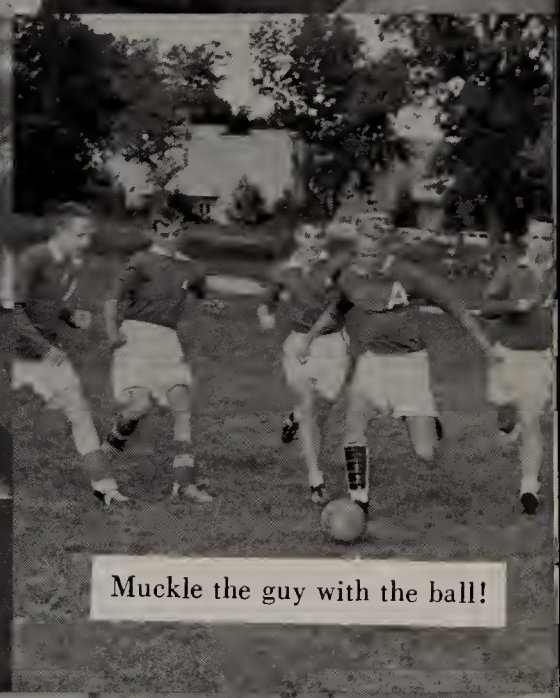
Will the real queen please step forward?

"It's got to go!"

Mascots today, students tomorrow.

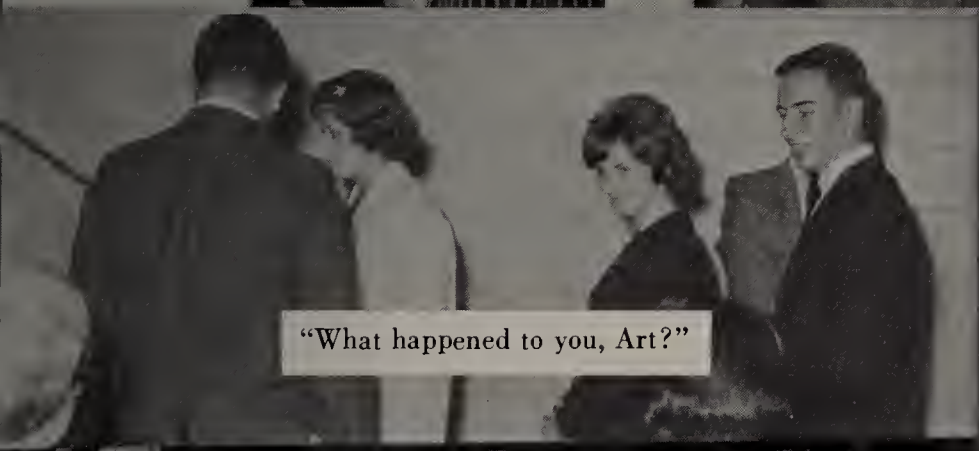
"I promise that I won't push it."

Jackie Gleason, here we come!



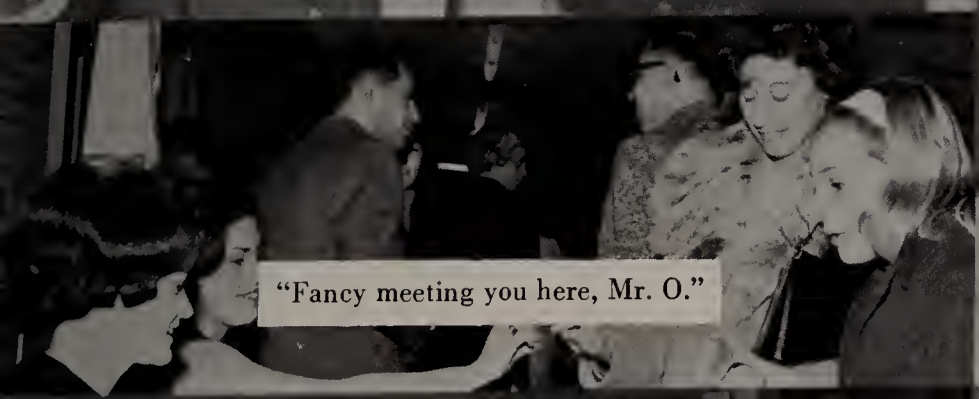
Muckle the guy with the ball!

The Twist



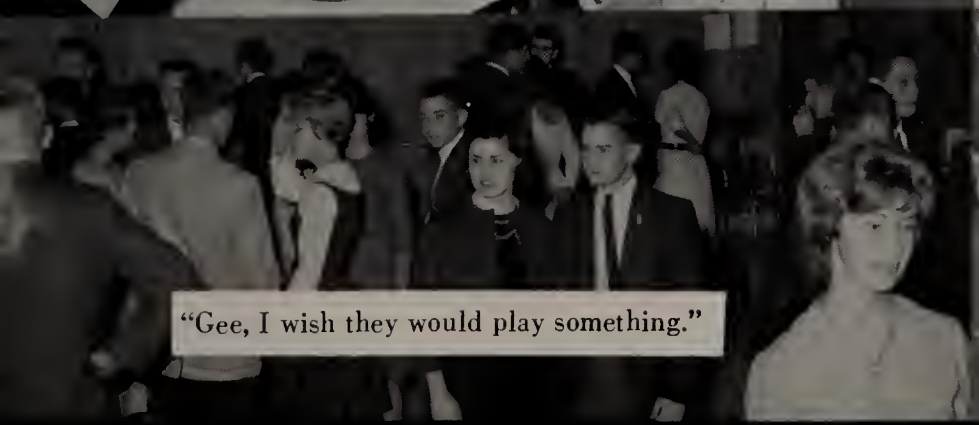
"What happened to you, Art?"

"Ready, one, two . . ."



"Fancy meeting you here, Mr. O."

"My feet hurt."



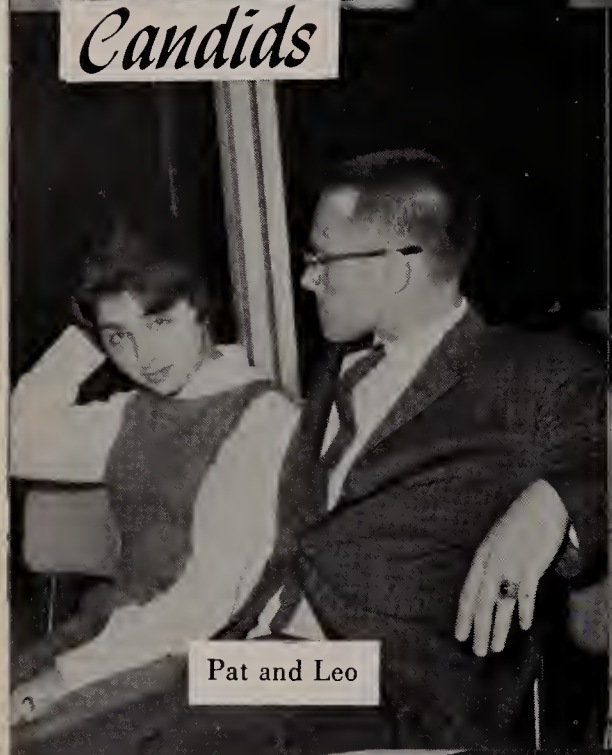
"Gee, I wish they would play something."

Lauren and crew!

Candids

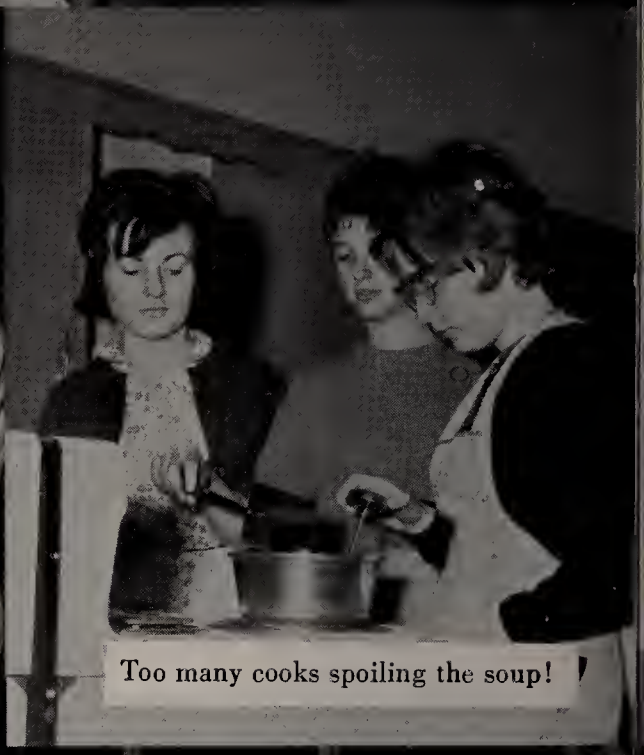
Russ, Monica, and Wally Cryan

But, I'm not supposed to be here tonight

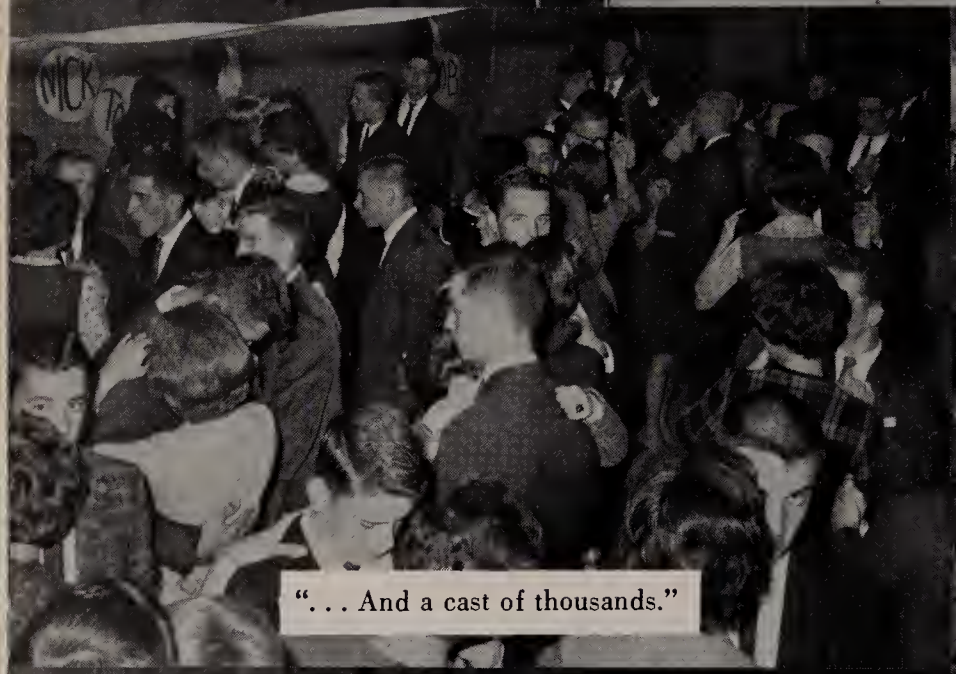


Pat and Leo

Pay the lady!



Too many cooks spoiling the soup!



"... And a cast of thousands."

Tired of dancing?

Smile for the camera-man!

Right? Right.

CONGRATULATIONS, CLASS OF 1963

ON THE OCCASION OF OUR 100th ANNIVERSARY

EST. 1863

100 years is a long time . . .

. . . to you, perhaps a reminder of past history . . . or a dream of the future . . . but for Sadler it marks a century's growth and development of the world's finest quality optical tools and findings.

On our 100th Anniversary, we congratulate the Attleboro High School class of 1963 on reaching this important milestone and look forward with you confidently to a bright and rewarding future.
